

Packing List for a Safe and Successful Trip!

- | | |
|--|--|
| ☒ Twin sheet set and pillow | ☒ Baseball cap |
| ☒ Work clothes: t-shirts, pants, long shorts that can get dirty! | ☒ Swimsuit |
| ☒ Comfortable loungewear for after the workday, pajamas | ☒ Water bottle |
| ☒ Regular clothing for weekends and travel days | ☒ Work gloves |
| ☒ Toiletries: shampoo, soap, baby wipes, etc. | ☒ Sunblock |
| ☒ Tennis shoes or work boots | ☒ Insect repellent |
| ☒ Flip flops for showering | ☒ Towel |
| ☒ Socks and undergarments | ☒ Lightweight sweater |
| ☒ Electrolyte powder (Gatorade, etc.) | ☒ Water shoes |
| ☒ Headlight/Flashlight | ☒ Safety glasses |
| | ☒ Personal medications |
| | ☒ Snacks that you like |

DR Climate: What to Expect

Temperature

While you are in the Dominican Republic, you can expect mostly sunny skies and daily temperatures between 80-90 °F.

Caution

Regardless of the season, the Dominican sun is MUCH stronger than what we are used to in North America, so be sure to bring plenty of sunblock and a hat to protect yourself during the week.

Rainy Season

The rainy season, May-October, typically has similar temperatures but can be more humid. Rainfall in the afternoons is also common, so a rain jacket can be packed.

Dress For Success

Depending on the month, the weather can be drier or more humid. Drier months (November-March) tend to be chillier in the evenings and early hours. A long sleeve shirt and a light blanket will make sure you are comfortable during this colder period.